Appendix 1 - Admissions Policy March 2019 – Review March 2020

The governors at Truro Nursery School have identified the following groups (using children's centre criteria as a basis) who may be considered vulnerable for priority admission. For the identified groups below, the application must be supported by evidence that the child meets the criteria outlined, this could be a doctors letter, Social Worker referral, professional report etc.

- children living with domestic abuse, adult mental health issues and substance abuse
- children 'in need' or with a child protection plan
- children of offenders and/or those in custody
- Parents, particularly those with any other identified need, for example, teenage parents and those in custody
- those with some protected characteristics¹, as defined by the Equality Act 2010 – see below
- children who are permanently being cared for by members of their extended family such as a grandparent, aunt or older sibling
- families identified by the local authority as 'troubled families' who have children under five
- families who move into and out of the area relatively quickly (transient families), such as asylum seekers, and those who are living in a refuge.
- Families where an older sibling is acting as a carer

In addition to the above priority places will also be considered for:

- children with a sibling that will still be attending Truro Nursery School at the time of entry. Siblings are defined as children with at least one natural or adoptive parent in common, living at the same or a different address. Children living in the same household at the same address would also be counted as siblings, regardless of their actual relationship to each other.
- SEN children who have an EHC plan in place
- Children in receipt of disability living allowance
- Looked after child or previously looked after child as defined by the Children's Act 1989 Section 22 e.g. foster placement, adopted, child in care of the local authority
- children of multiple births where the first child on the list would be offered a place but there would be no further place available for the second child
- children of members of staff

The list is not exhaustive and does not imply that young children or families in any of these categories require additional support. The governors and headteacher will need to judge the level of additional support required given the information they have.

Further information regarding admissions can be found on our Admissions Policy (copy available on request or from school website).
